Short description

The Riga Photography Biennial (RPB) is an international contemporary art event, focusing on photography as an art practice, centering on Latvia, the Baltic and European region as its priority. RPB takes place every other year from April until June in Riga and other regions in Latvia.

RPB programme consists of: international group and solo exhibitions in collaboration with Latvian and international institutions; an educational programme including a symposium, as well as lectures, portfolio reviews and creative workshops; the RPB award – ‘Seeking the latest in photography!’, which is aimed predominantly at artists from the Baltic; and an urban environment project, which utilizes urban infrastructure as a platform for art. A dedicated RPB publication is produced every year featuring its programme and events, as well as various supplementary articles that examine current issues in the field of art / photography.

Meanwhile the RPB off-year event programme is dedicated to emerging European artists working towards gaining recognition and establishing their position within the international art world.
